

100872

" "

B0 - 3

A

1673 - 4513 2022 - 03 - 064 - 04

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

" "

" "

" "

" " " "

Research on Xi Jinping's Important Exposition on Self-revolution

ZHAO Bingmei CHU Chenxi

School of Marxism Shenyang University of Aeronautics and Astronautics

Shenyang Liaoning 110148 China

Abstract As an important support for the current Party construction the Party's self-revolution stems not only from the adherence to the excellent traditional Chinese culture and the basic principles of Marxism but also from the experience summary of past practices. It is an important judgment on the governance of the country since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China Central Committee. Therefore only by firmly safeguarding the authority of the Party Central Committee and centralized and unified leadership adhering to the sharp weapons of criticism and self-criticism putting political construction in the first place adhering to the unity of the four and continuing to promote the Party's self-revolution can we constantly enrich the Party's ideological system and theoretical system solve problems resolve crises and create a new era of politics.

Keywords self-revolution Xi Jinping strict governance of the Party new era

On Habermas's Reconstruction of Historical Materialism

JIA Zixian

School of Philosophy Renmin University of China Haidian Beijing 100872 China

Abstract Marx found the answer of capitalist society in labor. Labor liberation contains sublation alienation and return to essence which is the correct path of human liberation. From the standpoint of the bourgeoisie Habermas criticizes Marx's concept of labor. Besides he believes that historical materialism has lost its theoretical power in modern times and needs to be reconstructed in order to complete the liberation. He emphasized the modern critical value of communication theory and the positive significance of improvement in late capitalism. Although his theoretical insight has the value of the times the "reconstruction theory" is a misinterpretation of historical materialism which needs to be refuted. The correct understanding of historical materialism needs to be established.

Keywords historical materialism labor communication theory reconstruction